Item description: Creating a range of comfortable classics that celebrate over 70 years of technical innovation, ODLO has created these long fit ladies Wedgemount pants as part of our Off Course collection. Inspired by the urban environment, these form-flattering pants bridge the gap between design and durability. Cut from a synthetic nylon and elastane blend, this unique weave offers improved flexibility and comfort alongside instant water repelling capabilities thanks to its DWR coating. Designed with an elongated and tapered fit with handy pockets for storing life's essentials, these lightweight and versatile pants are a fuss-free essential for all-terrain styling – offering a clever alternative to simple cotton separates.
