Item description: ODLO's new Ceramicool Light armwarmer for cyclists brings protection against the sun, wind and heat so you can concentrate on the route ahead. Built with seamless construction for uninhibited movement and engineered to create great airflow, this armwarmer is the ultimate biking accessory. High UV protection keeps you better protected from the sun and Ceramicool technology actively cools your skin by up to 1°C so you stay cooler in the saddle. For fast descents in cool winds, the armwarmer acts as a bonus layer to keep you warmer without having to add a full layer to your core. Equip yourself with the multi-functional, actively-cooling and highly transportable Ceramicool Light armwarmer from ODLO.
